MR. SAMPSON AND MISS NORRIS MARRIED LAST NIGHT.

Office Building at the Butter-Dish Factory Burned-Work Progressing on the Ponnan Warehouse-

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride's mother, on Tenth and Hull streets, Manchester, last evening, when Miss Minnie Norris became the "wedded wife" of Mr. Fred-Harrison Sampson. The parlors had been tastefully decorated with evergreens and flooded with the mellow glow of shaded

Rev. W. W. Lear, in the presence of many warm friends and according to the impressive ritual of the Methodist Church, pronounced those magic words that bound their plighted lives till death.

The bride is a charming young lady, and carries into her new life the best wishes of a large circle of friends whom, by her sweet and winning ways, she has drawn around her.

Mr. Sampson is very popular, and an esteemed employee of the Southern Railway Company. The ushers were Mr. Eddle Mathews (best man) and Mr. Al.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party entered carriages awaiting, and were driven to their future home, on Eleventh street, where a delightful re-ception was tendered them. Mr. and Mrs. Sampson were the recipients of many and elegant presents. MR. POPE'S OFFICE BURNED.

The office was at the time used as a storehouse, and more than 15 churns, valued at 45 each, were also destroyed, hesides some fencing surrounding the building. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an incendiary, as no other explanation can be adduced. There was a stove in the building, but no fire had been lighted for stood just behind J. R. Johnson's foundry and between it and the dish factory. The loss is estimated at about $1,500.

THE NEW WAREHOUSE. Work on the new warehouse of Messrs. W. S. Donnan & Co., corner of McDonough and Eighth streets, is progressing rapidly. Suitable bed has been dug out and the foundation work was begun yesterday.

The building is to be of brick and will

THE FURNITURE IS ALL SOLD.

The Exchange and Ballard Houses Stripped of Their Fixtures.

After having been in progress for more than three weeks, the auction sale of furniture and fixings at the Exchange and Ballard Hotels, which were closed down more than a year ago, has been concluded, and everything has been dis-posed of to the highest bidder. Mr. George W. Mayo conducted the auction. George W. Mayo conducted the auction. Fairly good prices were getten for most of the furniture, and some of it, which had historic value, sold at what might have been considered by some fancy figures. Especially was this the case with the bedroom suits which were in the room once occupied by the Prince of Wales and President Rutherford B. Hayes. Much value was also placed on the furniture in the room in which President Tyler died, and everything in Room dent Tyler died, and everything in Room 27, in which Mrs. Tyler breathed her last, also brought good prices.

The sale was conducted by order of the Court, and was under the immediate direction of Colonel Jo. Lane Stern, who was appointed receiver of the property. The large stable adjacent to the Ballard property was sold yesterday to Mr. N. V. Randolph for the very low price of $550, but it is not known yet that this sale will be confirmed.

DR. GAMBRELL AT THE COLLEGE.

The Well-Known Educator Makes a

Pine Address on Common Sense. A large audience assembled in the chapel at Richmond College last evening to hear Rev. Dr. J. B. Gambrell, the distinguished ex-president of Mercer University. Dr. Gambrell did not speak on the subject which had been announced, but on that very important subject, "Common Sense."

Nearly every phase of life was touched on, and how much such conditions could be improved by the exercise of a little common sense was strongly impressed upon the audience. Few great orators, ie said, have been successes, because they he said, have been successes, because they lacked this one virtue. An orator is apt to have a great imagination, and, therefore, has more sail than ballast. Common sense is reasonableness about the common things of life, and is the chief requisite for a successful professional or business career. The man must prepare himself for life, and the sacrifices made in early life by sincere, honest men, in order that they may be prepared for life, shows they may be prepared for life, shows great common sense.

Dr. Gambrell also spoke of the common sense manifested in the idea of higher coeducation. When woman, the natural reacher of the race, is admitted into the colleges and universities her opportunities for instructing are enlarged, and as a consequence we will have a higher grade of home life. Moreover, when woman becomes acquainted to a degree with civil affairs, we are to have better governments, brought about by her influence over the men in, and who are to be in, authority.

SEE A MILK-WHITE FLAG. Hoyt's New Production Pleases a Large Audience Here.

Charles Hoyt's strange conceit, entitled 'A Milk White Flag," is essentially an entertainment for dramatic epicureans, for people who are satiated with plots, nauseated with climaxes, disgusted with floring farcical fun, and who visit the play-house only when something is offered that can make them forget it.

Of such material is "A Milk White Fing," which was seen by a large and brilliant audience at the Academy last night.

Mr. Hoyt satirizes the native militia with the humor of Stockton and the wit of Gibert; and the delicious satirs on this and other themes makes this peculiar production one of the most agreeable matters presented on the Academy stage in a very long time. The marked excellence of the personations has much to do with the pleasing effect of the dramatist's goodnatured juggling with human foibles, and the audience received the piece and its strange developments with interest and satisfaction and enjoyment.

The play fairly bristles from end to end with bright lines. The chief interest of the work, indeed, lies in the dialogue in the unfailing fund of bitter observation, and in the boldness with which the author Mr. Hoyt satirizes the native militia the unfailing fund of litter observation, and in the boldness with which the author airs his theories concerning the militle, and love, and war, and pluck, and marriage, and society.

The oddity is very prettily mounted, and the cast is excellent, every part being filled to a picety.

BODY TAKEN TO NEWPORT NEWS.

Post Mortem and Inquest Over the Remains of Mattie Hall.

The remains of Mattie Moss alias Mattie Hall, which, as told in yesterday's Dispatch, were secretly shipped here from Newport News, where she died, it is supposed from the effects of injuries inflicted by Martha Robinson, were taken back to that city yesterday afternoon. When 'Chief-of-Police Howard received the first telegram Wednesday night from Chief Harwood, of Newport News, ask-ing that the body of the girl be sent back on the early train vesterday means. on the early train yesterday morning, he gave instructions that this be done. Upon second thought, however, he count-ermanded these instructions, and ermanded these instructions, and wired back that the body would be held for a reasonable time, and it was de-sired that it be sent for. Later, Major Howard received another communication.

asking that the body be sent, as first requested, as all expenses would be paid at the other and. To this he replied that the authorities of Newport News must come for the body if it was wanted.

So, at 11:30 o'clock yesterday, Chief S. J. Harwood, of Newport News errived.

J. Harwood, of Newport News, arrived in the city, and went immediately to Major Howard's office. Detective Gibson Major Howard's office. Detective Glasson with Mr. Harwood to President Oppenhimer, of the Board of Health, and received a permit to take the body away. Together they then went to the house, where the remains were turned over to Chief Harwood, and given to a selected or of the control of the colored undertaker named Cook, who got the body in readiness and it went on the afternoon train, on which Chief Harwood wag a passenger.

A telegram received from Newport News iast night said a post-mortem was then being made and that an inquest would be held this morning at 9 o'clock.

LITTLE PETER STILL MISSING.

He Was Seen in Petersburg and Dan ville-Search in Other Cities.

Peter Dickson, Jr., the 12-year-old so of Mr. Peter Dickson, of Norfolk, is still missing. His father is here, and has instigated a search for him, which extends far and wide, and will probably bring the prodigal back to his hearthstone. In the mean time, Willie Degge, the youthful companion of Dickson, who left Norfolk in company with the lad, is in jall in that city, having been ar-rested there on the charge of the murler of little Peter.

From what could be learned here re garding the case last evening, the Dick-ton boy was last seen in Manchester, where Degge says he left him last Wednesday. Upon that day Mr. R. B. Tallor was confronted by a boy correspon which to buy something to eat. Previous to that two lads called at the house of a colored employee of the Atlantic-Coast Line, named Moon, and begged for food, which was given them. These boys are supposed to have been Dickson and

The father of the Dickson lad came up here several days ago in the hope of finding his boy. Degge had stated that he left little Peter asleep under Cowar-din-avenue bridge, in Manchester, and Mr. Diekser. Mr. Dickson at once put himself into communication with Chief-of-Police Lips-comb, of that city, who is rendering the distressed father all the sid he possibly can. Mr. Dickson went over to Peterscan. Mr. Dickson went over to Petersbarg yesterday to make inquiries regarding the lad, and learned that a small boy answering the description given of his son was there on last Monday, but had not been seen in that place since.
A small urchin, supposed to be Dickson, however, was observed in Danville in company with a couple of tramps later on, and it was supposed that the mcn on, and it was supposed that the men were utilizing the little fellow to do were utilizing the little lenow their begging and run general errands

Mr. Dickson returned to Manchester last night, and was engaged until mid-night sending out letters to the chiefs of police of southern and western cities, making for information regarding the lad.
Major Howard has already instructed his men to look out for the juvenile "tourist" in Richmond, and it is though that Peter will soon be restored to his parents, at No. 101 Cumberland street, SWANSON IS NOT AFRAID. Threats of Contest Don't Scare Him.

Flood May Get His Seat. Hon. Claude A. Swanson, congressman from the Fifth District, who was reelected on the 3d, was in the city yesterday, and, visiting the Capitol, had a long talk with Secretary-of-the-Com-monwealth Lawless, Mr. Swanson has no fear of losing his seat, and when asked concerning the threat of the Re-publicans to contest his seat, replied: "I have not been served with any notice as yet, and am not alarmed over the threat."

The Congressman said if a contest was attempted he would be ready to meet the Republicans more than half way. "I am the man who should have complaint to make," he said. "If a contest is made for my seat I will show corruption on the part of my opponents. My election was fairly secured, but I cannot say as much, I regret, of the attempt to defeat me."

COMPANY D'S REUNION.

The Soldier Lads and the Veterans Enjoy a Banquet.

Company D. Old Dominion Guards, o the First Regiment, and the recently organized veteran association held their first reunion last night, and the occasion was celebrated with an elegant banquet at Morganstern's.

The company and the veterans, together with the invited guests, assembled at the Armory at 8:30 o'clock, and marched thence to the banquet hall, where a most sumptuous spread awaited them. The tables were peantifully decorated and bountifully supplied. Full justice and bountifully supplied. Full justice was done the meal, and when cigars were produced Captain C. A. Crawford rapped for order, and in a neat little speech assumed the office of toasimaster. He then in turn introduced Captain E. P. Reeve, Captain C. T. Lochr, Colonel E. Leslie Spence. Mr. Peter Kenningham, and Mr. M. T. Philips, all of whom made speeches expressing their love for the old company. The Jefferson Quartette was present, and rendered several selections, which were greatly enjoyed by all. The company dispersed at midnight, after having spent a most enjoyable evening.
